Football 1972 - Champions

Cooper blocks while Bruce Gray intercepts a Grantham High pass in the Ridley end zone as Poole watches.

Approximately 95 Ridleians carried the School's colours on the football field this year. By all standards it must be considered a very successful football season for the three teams that represented Ridley against the other schools.

The First team was co-captained by two linemen, Hazell ma. and MacLachlan ma. Under their fine leadership the team won five games and lost one; losing a close contest to The Nichols School of Buffalo.

In the final game of the year, Ridley defeated U.C.C. in a very hard fought defensive struggle to win the Independent Schools Championship. The team's success throughout the year was due in large measure to a great team effort both in games and in practices.

Fourteen of the 1972 squad are slated to return next fall, and these boys should provide the experience and ability to give Ridley another successful football contender.

The Second football squad, captained by Wyatt, also enjoyed a successful season, particularly from two points of view. One, the number of games played, nine, was many more than in any other previous season, and two, the record of five wins and four losses represented an improvement over past years.

Very few Year 5 boys were on the Second team indicating that most of the personnel will be available to replace the fifteen graduates from the First team. If this practice is continued, it could prove to be a great asset for future Ridley football teams.

The Under 16 football team was captained by Travis, Kapur and Mackenzie mi. The team played a seven game schedule, winning four and losing three.

Speed and enthusiasm were the two most marked characteristics of this team. The team might have enjoyed a perfect record if they had not had to play their first three games without the services of five of their key players, who were benched for disciplinary reasons.

The success and enthusiasm of the three School teams augurs well for the future of football at Ridley. Also it was encouraging at the First team level to find the competition vastly improved this season over previous years in our Independent Schools League. The success and future of our league depends upon well matched teams. This has not been the case for several years until this season. It is to be hoped that this recent trend will be continued next year.

The Credit System

As the Credit System has just become compulsory for all High Schools in Ontario, everyone is writing about it.

A credit is obtained by the successful completion of a course that would normally take a period a day for the whole school year. The Secondary School Graduation Diploma, earned at the end of Grade 12, requires 27 credits, The Honours Graduation Diploma requires 6 Grade 13 level credits.

THE GRADE 13 YEAR

The requirements for University are no longer as specific as they were a few years ago. Many University departments have abandoned or at least modified, their prerequisite subjects. Many students are too unsure of their professional goals for the Universities to be able to insist on rigid prerequisites for most courses. If the student did not take the correct Grade 13 subjects to prepare him for a particular professional school, he can usually make up the deficiency at the University.

Several changes have resulted from the taking of six equal courses in the final high school year. Languages are no longer treated as double subjects. It is possible either to take a large number of different subjects or to specialize in a few subjects. For example, a few students take three mathematical subjects and three science subjects only.

At the present, English and History are the only areas in the humanities where a student can take two credits in the one subject. As a result, some students find difficulty in selecting six courses without being forced into subjects in which they have little interest or aptitude.

GRADES 9 - 12

It is in the first four years of High School that the Credit system has had its greatest impact.

As well as requiring 27 credits, there are some restrictions on the choice of subjects that ensure that the student does cover a reasonably wide range of subjects. The main advantage of the Credit System is that it awards credit for each year in a subject that has been passed by the student. In the previous regulations for the Grade 12 diploma a student had to pass the Grade 12 course to obtain any credit for that subject which he may have studied for four years.

The introduction of the Credit System has resulted in the introduction of many new courses in Public High Schools. Ridley has tended to be conservative in this respect because the majority of our graduates will be going to University. For these students "Physics" is more important than "Man and Space", "Ancient History" is more useful than "Consumer Studies". Also in a relatively small school like Ridley, where classes are normally small in size, it is not possible to offer a very wide range of subjects without making class sizes just too small. While it is not quite true to say that no two boys at Ridley take the same subjects, the Credit System has resulted in a much wider variation in the choice of subjects.

As a result of this greater flexibility the student, and his parents, sometimes have difficulty in selecting the combination of subjects that best match his ability, interest and future plans. Thus the student learns, at an earlier stage than previously, to accept responsibility for decisions about his own future. The Guidance Department has a very important role to play in this selection process.

In recent years, the abolition of external Grade 13 examinations and the resulting freedom given to teachers, to concentrate on the education of their students rather than on the development of examination techniques, has greatly changed the educational process.

Concern is expressed about the maintaining of standards in schools. The Credit System should result in a raising of the standards because the potential failure in a subject usually decides to take another credit instead. Thus the standard of achievement is maintained by the student avoiding the subjects that he finds most difficult; one can't help but wonder if this is really acceptable in an institution that is intended to produce well educated young men. The School is, at the present, giving much thought to the proper balance between the number of compulsory subjects and the number of electives.

At the same time, as the Credit System has developed, a change has taken place in the Summer Schools of Ontario. As well as providing remedial courses in subjects that a student has failed, the summer schools are now offering courses for those who wish to take additional subjects. As a result of taking summer school for three summers, the five years of High School can be completed in four years.

It can be seen that the Credit System has its advantage and its limitations. The Credit System is mainly concerned with the placing of students in classrooms. Education starts after the teacher and his pupils have arrived at the Classroom.

Singing

Under Mr. Tansley's direction, the choir is making great strides this year. The Ridley Choral Society meets every Wednesday night and involves members of staff, friends of the School, as well as boys. A Spring production of 'Carmina Burana' is planned. As an experiment the Choir sang at an optional evening Communion service on All Saint's Day; the lovely strains of the Merbecke service were most effective and it is hoped that other Saint's Days and Festivals will be celebrated in like manner. Towards the end of term the Choir sang an Advent Service of Choral Music at St. Thomas'; a large and appreciative congregation at the Ridley parish church were thus able to experience the fine singing the Choir is presently doing. The culmination to the term's work in a musical sense was, of course, the pair of Christmas Carol services held on the last Sunday of term. Splendid singing and sensitive renditions of new and old, familiar selections provided a fitting climax to a term of outstanding accomplishment on the part of the Choir.

Lower School Notes

Michaelmas term at an end — and the sanity of all, often questioned, is still intact. Amazing, when one considers the number and variety of activities engaging Lower School boys in the past ninety-nine days.

In sports, no less than sixty separate fixtures were played on an inter-school level in football and soccer. The First football team enjoyed a successful season despite the presence of only one old colour. Tuttle played hard both ways to lead the team, while Paterson, as quarterback, provided a determined example for the others. The Seconds capped a fine season by defeating the Nichols School (Buffalo) for the first time in memory (Mr. Coy's that is).

The soccer teams, if not all as successful on the score sheet as previous years, then certainly in the amount of enjoyment acquired, expended their usual large masses of energy.

After mid-term, ninety-six enthusiastic pugilists donned gloves and acquired some degree of skill in the art of self-defence. One hundred and twelve bouts later, two boys in each of twelve divisions arose triumphant to display their prowess in the Boxing Finals held Friday, December 8. DeRose fought well to receive the nomination for best boxer, while Fowle was selected runner up. Windsor was awarded the prize for most courageous loser.

A 'Hare and Hounds' chase organized by Mr. Jim Macgregor became a warm-up for the Annual Cross-Country race. Delayed for three days due to cold weather, the one hundred and fifty-four runners finally pounded their way around the nearly two mile course through mud and snow. In his fourth cross-country, Post crossed the tape first, narrowly ahead of Kyle, Osler and Skinner. The Mohawks collected most overall points to be declared the winning tribe.

The winter sport programme, with options of hockey, squash, basketball and swimming has begun with many inter-school games already completed.

Academic, extra-curricular activities by no means have taken a back seat to sport. Theatre trips to 'Godspell', 'The Fantastics' and 'Peter Pan', and visits to the School by the Canadian Mime Theatre and Theatre for the Performing Arts, have made live theatre a more real experience for many.

Three members of Spira House visited the School and spoke to the boys. One time drug addicts themselves, and now working with present addicts, they painted a depressing picture of the effect of drugs and had a profound impact on the boys.

Three news clubs have been formed. Leonard House has been changed slightly to accommodate a hobby room, where everything from model planes to a full sized Kon Tiki raft have been built. There is not truth to the rumour that members of the staff intend to run the Niagara rapids on the raft, despite the hopes of certain Form Nine students.

The 'nightingale' touch — Lissaman receives attention from Miss Marlowe Norris, RLS nurse.

The Chess club, given an impetus by the recent world championship competition, has flourished. Many pleasant evenings of mock battle, have culminated in feverish House tournaments and a successful match against Grantham High.

News of the birth of the 'Motor Maniacs Club' had Mr. Chris Loat and Mr. Bill Smy frantically hiding their cars as wrench-wielding motor enthusiasts searched for resource material.

The Camera Club, with thirty-nine keen members, ventured to the Kodak Company in Rochester to view the most sophisticated processes of darkroom technique.

Although a Mountaineering club has not been formed, Jones mi., has managed to scale the sheer and rarely conquered North wall of Leonard House. Duty boys in that House no longer store their chocolate milk on the window ledge.

Other excursions have been squeezed into the programme also. As an innovation, older boys have brought bicycles to the School and short bike hikes have been made. On a larger scale of outing, a van load of boys, with Messrs. David Cosgrove and Bill Smy tackled the outdoors in tents. Guinness proved to be a master of campfire cooking and aided in the never ending battle to satisfy the hunger of eighteen boys.

Orienteering is an art rarely practised by Lower School. Evidence of this was provided one Sunday, when a group of seventeen were taken to a local wooded area. All seventeen were lost, only three found the first check point, three yards from the start and Lopez-Morton, custodian of the second check point, remained so undisturbed, he fell asleep under a tree.

Skiers, not to be outdone by all other groups, organized early but the only trip was washed out. However, a ski show at Hamilton was some consolation for thirty boys.

Contrary to the impression that may have been gained, the School has continued with classes as usual, and examinations now in full swing, mark the end of an extremely busy, yet most satisfying term.

Photographed during an RLS camping trip, Lusink, West, Graham mi., and Jones ma.

Debating has been given a boost with the introduction of tribe competition. Messrs. Jim Macgregor and Barry Spence threw an introductory challenge to the boys, "That ye Hamberger shoule be exterminated from North America". Lett and May, accepting the challenge on behalf of sixty irate students, played cunningly on the sympathy of the strongly biased audience, to defeat the government. Messrs. Barry Spence and Jim Macgregor were heard to remark after, that it was very difficult to swallow their loss. Comments such as this during the debate undoubtedly led to their defeat.

Soccer '72

The Ridley Firsts opened the season with an exhibition game against St. Catharines Cricket Club. Unfortunately they were able to play soccer as well as cricket and we lost 2-1.

The team then settled down to some serious training with a good example being set for them by their captain, Scott-Paine.

Our first league game was in Hamilton against Hillfield. In the last seconds of the first half, Ridley scored a classic goal from the right wing. The score remained at 1-0 until the last seconds of the game when Hillfield scored an equally beautiful goal to tie the game. We went home with only one point but somewhat encouraged.

Unfortunately, this was not long lasting as we met The Nichols School the following Tuesday and lost. Our second league game was with T.C.S. and despite a fine effort by Ridley, we lost.

The team needed a win! The following weekend we met Hillfield at home and after a hard game and excellent defensive play, we managed a 2-1 victory. That was the beginning of success.

A win away against U.C.C.! What better way to raise the spirit of a Ridley team? From the opening kickoff, (which resulted in a goal for Ridley) the team was not to be denied and we came home with 2 points for the win.

Knight of the U/16's connects with the ball.

The following Saturday was the long trip to S.A.C. After 80 minutes of very frustrating soccer, we were tied 0-0 and thus lost any hope for the Championship. However, the final game was at home with U.C.C. and saw Ridley victorious and finishing second overall.

had a very successful year. Ridley only lost one game which is very encouraging for a strong Firsts next year. The Under Sixteens according to Nat Caters showed more promise this year than in the past and had a very good record with only one loss. Again this is a good indication of what we can expect in the future.

League soccer was very successful this year with a lot of enthusiasm. Not only was the competitive spirit high but the soccer was of a good standard.

This possibly was not the best season Ridley has seen in soccer but certainly one that shows great promise for future years.

The Ridley Program For Excellence Continues

Canvassing is still continuing in certain areas on behalf of the Program for Excellence campaign. By the time this issue of Tiger is in the mail our receipts will have passed the $4,300,000 mark towards our target of $5,000,000.

It is expected that construction will begin on the new Resource Centre which will include the expanded Library and new classrooms early this year. In addition, the renovation to the living quarters and other areas in School House will be completed along with the new Resource Centre by the opening of the new school year in September. The Board of Governors approved the starting of these projects having confidence that our ultimate target for the campaign will be reached.

As mentioned above the campaign is still continuing and if any of our readers have not as yet contributed, we trust that they will realize the needs of the School and send in their contribution so that our overall target will be reached and surpassed this year.

Staff Notes

The Headmaster, accompanied by Mrs. Bradley, attended the Canadian Headmasters' Association meetings at Brentwood School, Victoria B.C., in October. During his week away from the School, the Headmaster also attended Old Boys gatherings in Vancouver, Edmonton, Calgary and Winnipeg.

During the mid-term break, Mr. John S. Guest and Mrs. Guest attended the triennial conference of the National Association of Episcopal Schools in Washington, D.C. John was invited to attend as a member of the panel on "the middle school" (Grades 6-9). It was a coincidence that the president of the association is the Reverend Thomas N. F. Shaw (43) headmaster of Trinity Episcopal School in New Orleans, La.

Mr. Ross Morrow has been appointed to the Board of Directors of Ontario Youtheatre; in addition he has been appointed to the English Advisory Committee for the Niagara Region of the Ministry of Education. At the initial meeting of the Niagara District Drama Council he was elected president for the coming year. On November 21 and 22 he was programme chairman for the annual Conference of Secondary School English Department Chairmen meetings in Minneapolis, Minn.

Mr. E. V. B. Pilgrim (ex-staff) has been appointed a director of the Canadian Centre for Entrepreneurial Studies in Toronto, Ont.

Mr. David R. Wilson, the acting assistant headmaster of the Upper School for the past two years has been confirmed as assistant headmaster by the Board of Governors.

Duke Of Edinburgh's Award Scheme

Horseback riding in the Alberta foothills. Canoeing on the Magnetawan River. Hiking the Bruce Trail.

Treating a broken leg. Rescuing a drowning victim. Looking after a sick dog.

Qualifying as a pilot of a light aircraft. Collecting Stamps. Cycling.

Question: What have all these things to do with Ridley? What have they in common?

Answer: The Duke of Edinburgh's Award.

The Duke of Edinburgh's Award Scheme has been introduced into the Cadet Programme this year at the suggestion of the Headmaster. The objectives of the Scheme are described in the Handbook: "The Duke of Edinburgh introduced the Award Scheme to help and stimulate the enthusiasm and energies of young people by presenting a challenging programme of activities."

Boys are divided into award levels based on age groupings — Bronze, Silver or Gold. At each level there are four sections in which requirements have to be fulfilled; they are:

1. Service: The presentation of the opportunity to prepare for and give service to others;
2. Expeditions: The preparation and undertaking of a challenging journey;
3. Hobbies: The development of leisure time activities and interests;
4. Physical Fitness: The partaking of a programme of physical activities.

At present the Cadet Corps has been divided into two main groups; one group taking training in Expeditions and the other in Service. Physical Fitness assessment will take place in the spring. Hobbies is an activity that must continue over a period of at least six months at the Bronze level in the individual's spare time. At the end of January the Expeditions and Service groupings will change in a Round Robin.

The upper classrooms of School House have been taken over on Mondays during Cadet time by Dr. Alex McCubbin and his Expeditions crowd. "Expeditions" is essentially a journey undertaken on foot, by cycle, in canoes or on horseback. To prepare for the journey training and practical experience must be gained in a wide variety of skills — map reading, cooking, safety precautions and bivouacing.

The distance to be covered varies in each of the award levels, from 15 miles on foot at the Bronze level to 50 miles at the Gold. There are stipulations as to maximum and minimum numbers in groups and a time duration. Prior to undertaking the journey each cadet must submit his proposed plan for approval to ensure that the minimum requirements will be met and to ensure that safety has not been neglected. A staff member must make arrangements for a check to be made on the group each day — but the stress is on the boy to complete the planning and execution of the journey with the minimum of adult involvement. At present the training for the journey seems tedious and trivial — but the Spring will bring an upsurge in enthusiasm as soon as groups start out into the field.

The Service section is offering First Aid, Police Services, Life Saving and the Corps Band. In February, Care of Animals, another option, will start. Major Jack Rose has been successful in recruiting a number of community groups to help provide a wide variety of options.

The local St. John's Ambulance Brigade has provided a cadre of instructors and is conducting a tri-level course over the next three years so that cadets who have chosen this option will qualify not only for the appropriate D of E award but the equivalent First Aid certificate.

Mr. Al Davis is conducting a swimming life saving course to Royal Lifesaving standards. Boys in this section will qualify for the appropriate lifesaving certificate.

The Niagara Regional Police have sent members of the local gendarmerie to outline the workings and facilities of the Regional Police. Instruction varies from a study of the Highway Traffic Act to a tour of the local police station.

The sounds of drums and trumpets will not disappear from the gym, however. To ensure that the Corps Band will survive the winter term the Band has been authorized as a Service Option.

Leisure time activities have been organized by Mr. Hugh Molson with the aid of a large number of staff members. The programme handbook outlines a syllabus for over 200 hobbies. The main requirement here is to encourage progress and sustained interest in a hobby over a period of time. The time requirement at the Bronze level is six months, at the Silver twelve months, and at the Gold eighteen months. The school is prepared to offer assessment in a wide variety of subjects. Aeronautics, Photography, Brass Rubbing, Debating, Drama, Film/TV Production, and Wine Making are but a few from the list.

In addition to supervising the over-all programme as Commanding Officer of the Cadet Corps, Lt. Col. Andy Iggleton is also the co-ordinator of the Physical Fitness section. The requirement here is to pass an average standard in various physical activities such as throwing, running, jumping. Lt. Col. Iggleton does not think that the requirements will prove too difficult, but he does recommend that some of the boys do some training prior to the testing, as many of the activities are of a different nature to the sports programme of Ridley. Almost all the school should be able to pass the Bronze test this year.

Year Five boys are not required to enter the Scheme as a candidate due to the impossibility of them completing the Hobby section before graduating. Most, however, have entered either as a candidate or as an assistant in the Expeditions section.

It's obvious that we won't reach the Alberta foothills or Magnetawan River, or put a pilot into the sky this year. That's for the future. But hopefully the programme will deepen the experience of each boy, make him aware of his capabilities, interest him in others and provide a launching platform for his future activities.

S.A.C. Headmaster Honoured

We offer our congratulations to J. Dr. Coulter is currently the dean of Canadian independent school's headmasters.

Annual Meeting

Ridley College Association

For the first time, the Annual Meeting of the Ridley College Association was held at the School over the Association Weekend. This is a practice that was followed many years ago by the Old Boys' Association. The result of this new location was that by the end of the Meeting 60 or 70 Association members were in attendance and this led to an interesting and lively Annual Meeting.

George M. Hendrie (49) newly elected President of the Ridley College Association.

A main item on the agenda of this meeting was the election of Officers for the forthcoming year. George M. Hendrie (49) of Toronto was elected President for the next two years. His first and second Vice-Presidents are David R. McBride (51) and J. David Bishop (49) of Toronto, Ontario. Terry Cronyn (21) of St. Catharines continues for another year as Honorary President and Donald M. Lorimer (52) of Toronto, Ontario was elected Honorary Secretary. S. G. Heaman (39) was re-elected Secretary of the Association.

The Executive Committee of the Association with one year to serve are John C. Murray (62), C. W. E. Merry (57), B. P. Mordy (Current Parent), D. W. Naylor (Current Parent) and Mrs. R. W. Stevens (Women's Guild Representative), Mr. Jon Silver (Staff Representative) and Michael Jon Sabia (72) of St. Catharines, representing the graduating class of 1972.

Those elected to the Executive Committee for two years are: W. Robert Hamby (52) of Oshawa, R. J. Paterson (Current Parent), Harold J. Scandrett (43), and Terry P. Scandrett (61) of Toronto and Mrs. A. H. Parks of Toronto (Women's Guild Representative).

The School Play

An Ethereal Evening

The ladies of the St. Catharines Women's Guild provided a sumptuous dinner in the Great Hall prior to the annual School play. This year's offering, which attracted a full house to the gymnasium, was the perennial comedy hit "My Three Angels". Leads were taken by Hendrie, Herriot and Cooper; further interest was added by the presence of girls on the stage as a departure from the usual Ridley tradition. Making their Ridley debuts were Jennifer Mackey, daughter of the Housemaster of Arthur Bishop House, David Mackey; Jane Bradley, daughter of the Headmaster; Beth Large, daughter of Stewart Large, the new Housemaster of Merritt House. The play suffered from the usual acoustic problems presented by the gymnasium, but the audience seemed to enjoy the antics of the three 'angels'.

Jane Bradley and Jennifer Mackey, two of the first three actresses to perform in a Ridley School Play.

Association Weekend

The 41st Annual Association Weekend was held on the 28th and 29th of October. Our usual good weather was not with us and there was a gentle rain in the morning. However, this ended by noon and although cloudy and damp under foot, conditions for watching the football game in the afternoon were not too bad. Well over 200 Old Boys and Parents registered for the Weekend and it is estimated that close to 300 would have been in attendance at some time during the Weekend. This is a good increase over last year and a trend that is hoped will continue.

As mentioned elsewhere in Tiger, the First football team were triumphant over U.C.C. and clinched the Independent School's Athletic Association Championship.

There were good turn outs from the two reunion classes of 1932 (40th) and 1947 (25th). The editor would like to thank Dr. John Belton concerning the arrangements for his Class 1932 and John Goldie, the Class Secretary for the 25th Reunion Class of 1947. Our first three year Reunion that of the Classes of '53, '54 and '55 resulted in a good turn out from the three classes and it was felt by those who attended that this three year grouping for a reunion at the Weekend is a good one.

The Reverend Canon Leslie Hunt delivering his sermon in the Chapel during the Association Weekend.

The Saturday night Dinner featured a very lively talk by Mr. Richard Bradley, our Headmaster, which was enthusiastically received by the 300 attending the Dinner.

The Chapel was full for the Association Service on Sunday. The sermon was delivered by the Reverend Canon Leslie Hunt who has served for many years as a member of the Board of Governors. After the Chapel service, the usual Sherry and Beer party at the Guests was very well attended and most appreciated. This was followed by a buffet luncheon in the Lower School after which most of our guests left to return home after, we hope, a pleasant Weekend.

YOU'RE WHERE IT'S AT

Sousa, Satchmo, Shaw and The Duke

What did they all have in common? They were all musicians (of course Artie and The Duke are still with us).

Ridley too has many budding talents, but the problem is lack of instruments.

The Tiger hopes that many of you reading this notice have in storage some long-unused instruments that you'd be happy to donate to help start a school orchestra.

Ridley needs just about anything in this line that you don't need anymore; saxes, horns, wind and strings — even rhythm pieces.

So if your past talents are gathering dust in the attic or your kids have turned to other pursuits — how about it!

Anything serviceable you care to supply will be gratefully accepted. You can . . .

Fourth Form Debating

In debating, as in any other Ridley activity, it is vital to have a constant infusion of new blood every year. For that reason, the Debating Union features in the Fall term a series of "Fourth form" debates for the Students' Council Trophy. "Fourth Form" is now "Years 1 and 2", and the cream of Ridley's youth is still invited or, if necessary, coerced into carrying the banner of its House into battle every Fall.

As in other years, each House debated each of the other three Houses once during the series, making a grand total of six inter-House debates spread throughout the term. This year, we were granted the privilege of holding our debates during the first forty-five minutes of study on Wednesday nights, enabling those who are inclined to attend the debates to avoid some valuable study time in the process. Naturally, the attendance improved a great deal. Four Senior boys (Wyatt, MacLachlan ma., Stewart I and Hendrie), gave considerable time to tutor incorrigible youngsters in the grand old tradition of Ridley debating. The topics were provocative: Co-education at Ridley? Automation a curse or blessing? Women's Lib a threat to males or not? As usual, the general administration of the system, executed by Hazell mi. plus Debating Union President Stevens, was very efficient indeed. For the debators themselves, the rewards were obvious. Those who assisted in the coaching derived the greatest pleasure (aside from victory) from persuading a scared new boy to enter the contest, and then seeing him turn out to be a diamond in the rough, with visions of Ridley glory lying ahead in the misty future.

The Championship Debate on Thursday, November 23rd, featured School and Gooderham Houses in a struggle for the Student's Council Trophy, which had traditionally been the property of Arthur Bishop House. Messrs. Bullied and Domzella of "Skol" faced Thetford and Gombas from Gooderham in what turned out to be by far the best debate of the whole series. The topic was "It is resolved that universities be reserved for the intellectual elite", the winners — the Opposition — School House. The School sends its congratulations to coach Hendrie and his team as well as to all the debators, coaches, speakers, clerks and judges for participating in the programme.

As usual, the Staff advisers, Messrs. Morrow and Molson, contributed freely with time and advice and, at times, appeared (as they often do) to be the sole supporters of debating at Ridley. Best of all, this year's Fourth form seems to have developed an interest in debating which bodes very good things indeed for its future.

Harriers - '72

When considering the name of Ridley's most respected and important sport, one inevitably wonders what it is that we do. Perhaps it could be that the title of this article has been misspelled and really should read "Hairiers" a group of saturnine satyrs devoted to the art of producing excessive body hair. With the exception of Rip (Mr. Silver's dog) we are no more hairy than anyone else.

In fact, the Harriers are a group of specially selected, skilled young athletes involved in a sport which all athletes of top calibre only hope they can aspire to, long-distance running. The team is mostly made up of boys who have reached the ultimate in the less demanding Ridley sports like rowing or football and have turned to Harriers for a little more strenuous and challenging sport.

Start of the SOSSA Zone 4 Junior Harriers meet. Running for Ridley — Meredith II, Dutton and Powell I.

We were limited to sixteen members to ensure a standard of pure excellence. The strength mainly lay in the junior team, consisting of King, Greenshields, Leighton, Macleod, Wiley and Lazenby. This team was successful on the local level, but did not get past the S.O.S.S.A. Trials, placing third. The winners in the School cross-country races were Junior — Greenshields; Intermediate — King, and Senior — McClelland I. As in the past we are very indebted to Mr. Silver who coached the team.

Around The School

The October 30th election aroused considerable interest around the School as the candidates for the three major parties were invited to speak to the School. Unfortunately the incumbent, Jim McNulty of the Liberals was sick on the day he was scheduled to speak, but Trevor Morgan of the PC's, the eventual winner of the St. Catharines seat, and Michael Inneo of the NDP met with a lively response from the boys. In a mock election at the School, the PC's were also victorious with Stewart I running up an impressive total over his rivals, Messrobian for the Liberals and MacLachlan ma. for the NDP. Real election participation was experienced by a number of boys who campaigned, under Mr. Ross Morrow's direction, for the PC candidate, in West St. Catharines.

In its first visit to the School, as part of the Prologue to the Performing Arts series, the Canadian Mime Theatre gave an impressive performance before all the boys of the Lower School and many of the boys of the Upper School as well. In an enchanting series of sketches culminating in a harum-scarum offering entitled "Silent Screen", the quartet of mime artists displayed enormous technical range and virtuosity. Following the performance, Adrian Pecknold, the artistic director of the company, gave a superlative workshop for a privileged number of boys with a particular interest in theatre.

The School was fortunate to have an opportunity to hear The Canadian Forces Air Transport Command Band from Kingston in an afternoon concert in the gymnasium. In a pleasing and varied programme, the band exploited all the resources of the concert band and showed the School the potential of a fine musical organization. The enthusiastic response of the boys was evidence of their approval of this kind of entertainment.

The usual term informal dance was held on November 25th with a large number of boys and their dates in attendance. Music was provided by "Ten Gallon Hat", a popular and somewhat restrained musical group; a coffee-house provided intermission entertainment as From and his group (current boys) "The Immigrants" sang and played popular selections.

The second offering in the Prologue to the Performing Arts series, Young People's Theatre in a production of "Waiting for Lefty" was held at the end of term. A difficult play dealing with issues of communism and strike action in the Depression, "Lefty" was perhaps beyond the level of some of the younger boys. It was an interesting production, however; its particular strength lay in its attempt at having the participation of the audience in the incendiary strike-breaking meetings of the New York cabbies.

Not surprisingly, Chess has been very popular in the School this year. Every day several matches seem to be in progress in the Library and at least one House has developed a competition among the keener players in that House.

Richard Needham, the irascible and irrepressible columnist of The Globe and Mail appeared at the School as the first speaker in the Bishop Ridley Lecture series. Always a provocative and outspoken critic of today's youth and the educational establishment, he sparked strong reaction and considerable antagonism from the large audience attending his talk. His challenge to the complacency and lack of motivation on the part of his listeners, coupled with a rather sensational attitude to contemporary sexual attitudes made for a decidedly lively evening. Rarely does a speaker at the School elicit such a strong response; irresponsible as he may be in some of his attitudes, he does certainly make his youthful listeners think and challenge their attitudes.

Branch Meetings

The Headmaster and Mrs. Bradley attended the Canadian Headmasters Association conference at Brentwood School on Vancouver Island in October. The Association Secretary, Sam Heaman, was able to prevail upon the Headmaster to extend his period away from the School by a few days in order to meet with our Western Branches. This resulted in four Branch meetings held in the Canadian West in late October.

VANCOUVER — A very well attended and pleasant dinner was held on Wednesday evening, the 18th of October at the Capilano Golf and Country Club. All of the arrangements were as always most capably handled by the Vancouver Chairman, Frank Hillock. Following the Dinner, the Headmaster spoke to those attending the Dinner.

CALGARY — A luncheon was held at the Calgary Golf and Country Club on Friday, 20 October by the Calgary Branch of the Association. The Calgary Chairman, Clinton W. Roenisch, was responsible for all the arrangements and although the attendance was small all who attended enjoyed the luncheon and the opportunity of discussing School matters with the Headmaster.

Attending the Calgary Branch Meeting — Henry M. Beaumont (50), Mary Bradley, Harry C. Hatch (68) and Clinton W. Roenisch (60).

EDMONTON — An evening reception for Edmonton Old Boys and Parents was hosted by A. Hoadley Mitchell, a Governor of the School and a Past Parent. This very pleasant reception was held at the Edmonton Petroleum Club on Friday, 20 October. The large turn out of the Edmonton Branch thoroughly enjoyed themselves and the opportunity of meeting the new Headmaster and his charming wife, Mary.

WINNIPEG — The Western tour of Association branches by the Headmaster and Mrs. Bradley ended with a luncheon in Winnipeg at the Ramada Inn on Saturday, 21 October. The arrangements were under the auspices of the Winnipeg Branch Chairman, David M. Sanders and although there was a small turn out of Winnipeg area Old Boys and Parents, those who attended enjoyed the opportunity of meeting the Bradleys.

How Wrong Can You Be?

A certain Norwegian cargo-vessel of about 6,000 gross tons lay at her berth in Hoboken, New Jersey. She was on a regular run to the Canary Islands and the Mediterranean. She has accommodation for a dozen passengers.

On an afternoon in December, 1971, I joined eleven other chance travellers on this ship. Next day, she completed taking on cargo and sailed in the afternoon.

When the passengers gathered in the lounge for pre-dinner drinks, we were joined by an elderly man in uniform and a younger man in plain-clothes. Both were addressed by the steward as "Chief".

Soon we discovered that the older man was the present Chief Engineer, that he was due to leave the ship on retirement in Las Palmas, whence he would fly to his home in Norway, and that the other was his replacement.

I watched the old Chief — robust, a shock of white hair. He sat in silence amid this group of strangers. His lips curled slightly, and his appearance was forbidding. I thought: "Can't blame him . . . the last week of his life's work . . . left only are long days in some small house or flat . . . a few old friends in the neighbourhood . . . his wife . . . children all married . . . occasional glimpses of grand-children . . ."

I had great compassion for him. During dinner he was taciturn, until the ladies began asking him personal questions.

Was he married? Yes. How many children had he? Eleven. Did any of them live at home? Yes; all of them. How many of them were working? None; they were all still at school.

I glimpsed the truth. My compassion was not needed.

How old was the youngest? Twelve. The eldest? Eighteen — yes; it is possible. His wife already had three children when they were married, and there were one or two sets of twins.

As we took coffee in the lounge after dinner, the old Chief left us. In a few minutes he re-appeared. He had with him an album of family photographs, which he passed around. When it came my turn to look at it, envy (I am a bachelor) replaced sympathy in my heart.

There were shots of his charming wife, of groups of equally charming children and of his home, with its private beach on an inlet of the sea. I thought: "What more can a man ask for? . . . lovely wife and home . . . a gaggle of teen-agers to keep the pot boiling . . . what better way for me to be wrong? . . ."

What do you know? I had not been so far out at that. A couple of days later, we caught on — the old Chief likes to have his fun.

Actually, he has four children, and none of them is at home. He lives with his wife in an apartment on the town square. The pictures that he showed us were of nieces and nephews, of other people's children, other people's gardens and beaches — the young ones and the places of his dreams.

Sometimes second impressions aren't too reliable either.
